The extent of the disagreement is a sign of how important Europe thinks its fisheries. The fish are caught in less than 100 fathoms of water, and the Continental shelf which surrounds the British Isles has provided nurseries and catching grounds to serve not only Britain, but many countries of northern Europe.

With the coming of steam trawlers at the end of the 19th century, these near grounds, and particularly the North Sea, were fished with a thoroughness, from which they have never recovered, and probably never will. Both world wars virtually shut the North Sea to fishing, and there were rich post-war harvests. But the effect was short-lived, and the modern trawlerman often looks a lot further afield.

Norway, Iceland and Russia are the countries best served by native grounds. Within or just outside the Arctic Circle, they all have the shallow seas off indented coasts that harbor prime fish. Cod—followed by haddock and plaice — is the principal catch, and is taken in vast quantities.

In all, it is estimated that about 3,000,000 tons of fish come out of the Arctic every year; in so and the northern seas have be-

Odessa Man, W. M. Clark, Reaches 100

Jan 12, 1952

By Fred B. Pense
Staff Writer

ODESSA'S grand old gentleman, William McCoy Clark, today celebrated his 100th birthday. He was at home to his immediate relatives at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James D. Snider, and Mr. Snider. Many cards of congratulations were received.

The centenarian, who is a son of the late Richard Lewis Clark and Mary Jane Caton, has spent his entire life in the Odessa district. He farmed for the greater part of his life, retiring in 1930 when he moved to Odessa where he has lived with his daughter, Miss Willanna Clark. Three and a half years ago he moved to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Snider, about two miles north of the village.

Mr. Clark's ancestors were United Empire Loyalists. His father, Richard Clark, was the youngest of 12 sons of Matthew Clark and Ann McCoy. Mr. Clark is the only surviving member of his family. His brother, E. O. Clark, was for many years postmaster at Odessa.

* * *

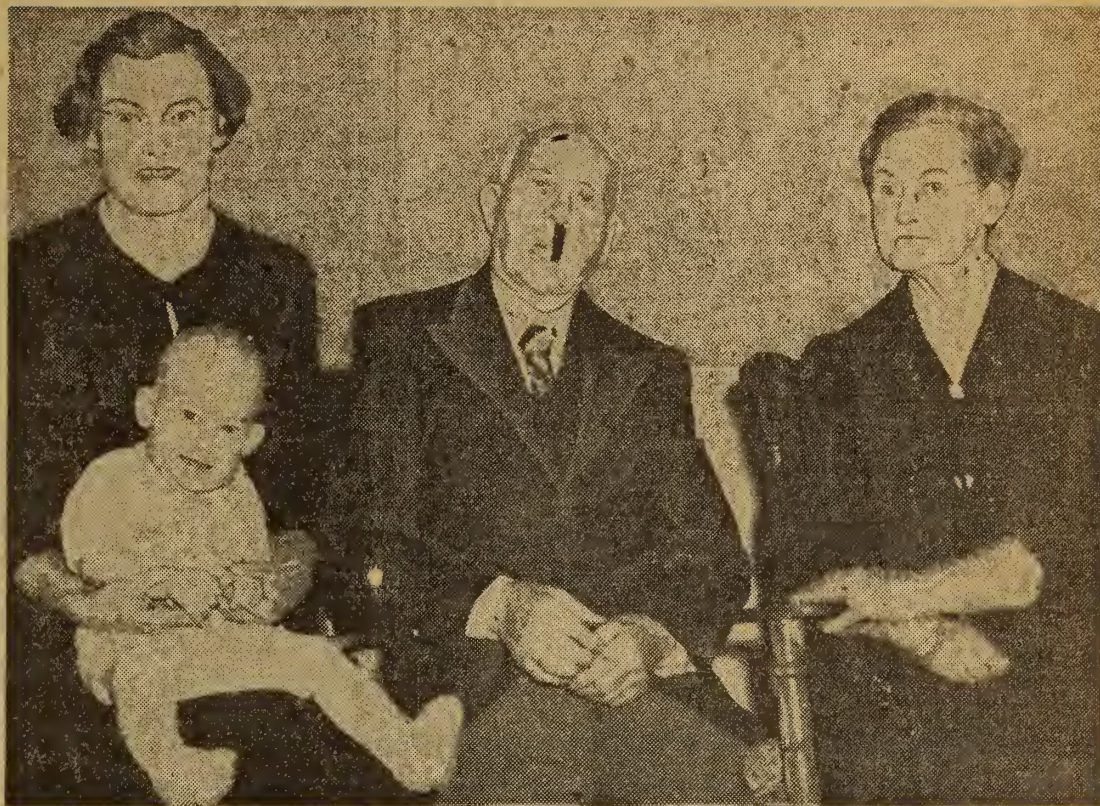

Mr. Clark recalled that he worked his farm with oxen in the early days. His farm was located southeast of the village of Odessa in the Clark settlement. His son, James, now lives on the old homestead.

Mr. Clark recalled that he was in Kingston on July 1, 1867, for the first Dominion Day celebration. He saw the first train pass through the Ernestown station on the old Grand Trunk Railway.

Agricultural affairs have always been of keen interest to Mr. Clark. As a young man he associated himself with the Ernestown Agricultural Society. He was president of that association when the main building on the fair grounds was built and is now an honorary director. He attended the Odessa fair when the show was held at the old drill shed in the west end of the village. For some years he was a trustee of Albert School Section No. 8, in the Clark settlement.

Twelve years ago Mr. Clark had the misfortune to fall and break his hip, but he did not give up. His daughter remarked: "Dad used to split the kindling up until four years ago." He takes a keen interest in radio. A life-long Conservative, he has kept in close touch with political developments. He enjoys talking of the days when Sir John A. Macdonald was prime minister of Canada.

The Clark family consists of three daughters, Mrs. Snider, who, with her husband, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Jan. 29; Mrs. John E. Hagerman, and Miss Willanna; two sons, James L., Odessa, and Dr. Alex M. Clark, Kingston. The grandchildren are Miss Mona Hagerman, Mrs. Carl B. Van Slyck, Murray Clark, Donald and Douglas Clark, and one great-grandson, John Arthur Van Slyck, six months old. His wife, the former Annie Calder, died in October, 1928.

Cooking Can Be Fun

READERS' SATURDAY COLUMN

QUESTION: I wish to thank you for sending me the Cranberry Orange Relish. Will this relish keep any length of time? I heard this recipe over the air, and it seemed to make it just a couple of days before required. I would like to have the recipe for your Christmas Hermits, and have a special recipe for Christmas cookies with the tiny gum drops?

(Mrs.) EEL

ANSWER: I have a jar of the Cranberry Orange Relish in our refrigerator that I made the week before Christmas and we had some of it this week for dinner and it was even better than when it was first made. There is nothing in this to deteriorate if it is kept cold.

GUM DROP PARTY COOKIES

One-half cup butter or margarine or shortening, 1/2 cup each

Fahr. for about 12 to 15 minutes.

I have sent you the Christmas Hermits.

QUESTION: I find your column in the paper very helpful. In fact sometimes it is the only page I have time to look at. I wonder if you could help me out. Would you tell me how to fry pineapple slices? that is, exactly what batter to dip slices in, how much lard or shortening and at what temperature. Are these served as cookies?

I saw them on television and they looked very good.

J. R.

ANSWER: No, pineapple slices dipped in batter and fried are used as a fritter — that is they may be used as a garnish and served with ham or other pork products or roast goose or duck or used as a dessert with powdered sugar or a lemon syrup.

Veteran Whig Pressman Visits Here

Sept. 4, 1952

Edward J. Clark, 82, Akron, O., a member of the pressroom
staff of The Daily British Whig 60 years ago, was a visitor to The Whig-Standard yesterday. While here Mr. Clark is the guest of his sister, Miss Mary Clark, 353 Brock street.

Born in Kingston, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Clark, he learned his trade as pressman
when The Daily British Whig, owned and published by E. J. B.
Pense, was on Brock street where the Livingston store is now. William Meek was foreman of the pressroom.

Wages in those days were low, in fact Mr. Clark was paid $1.50 per week and the staff worked a 12-hour day. James Bennett, a former member of the staff of Jackson Press, now retired, is the only printer living in Kingston who was working at his trade when Mr. Clark lived here. The latter was employed for a short time with The Daily News.

Leaving Kingston about 1890, Mr. Clark worked for a time in St. Thomas. He later moved to Detroit where he remained until 1893 when he secured employment in Chicago. He took up residence at Akron in 1900 and has remained all these years working at his trade.

Now retired from the plant where he was employed for many years, Mr. Clark still carries on a small job printing business in the basement of his home. "I simply could not put in the long hours if I did not have something to take up my time," he remarked.

His wife died in 1945 and since that time he has lived alone. Mr.
Clark has one son, Orville, in

Dear Mr. Burleigh:

I wish to thank you for answering my query from the Hartford Times. However, due to babies, vacations, etc. it will be awhile before I can go into your letter and answer it properly.

The following, however, is a will of Joseph Ketchum, the husband of Sarah Conklin:

The Will of Joseph Ketcham of Beekman's Precinct (Yeoman) devises to children Joshua, Samuel, Joseph, Daniel, Micah, Abijah, Yonngs, Isabel, Ruth, Rebecca, Sarah, and Abigail. July 6, 1785.-- Calendar of Wills #1006.

Would you have any early Marsh, Lang, or Brusanham's in your district? These are my husband's, mother's people. The Marsh's were from Vermont and perhaps the Lang's also.

Would you have or would you care to have the Ketchum's of New Brunsick, Canada? I have these records and would be most happy to send them to you.

Thanking you again for your kindness.

Sincerely,

Grace H. Flanders

Dear Doctor Burleigh:

Thank you for your letter of the 24th and for your remarks regarding the John Clark Diary. I must needs be patient.

We shall be very pleased to see you here in the second week in September. Except for holidays (Monday the 7th is a holiday), we are open from eight-thirty to five, Mondays to Fridays. I suggest that you do what you can during these hours; should you find this time insufficient, let us know and perhaps an arrangement might possibly be made for some one to come in on Saturday. (I expect to leave for a meeting in Detroit on Saturday morning.) The Dominion Archives is a different proposition, for they have guards always on duty. Also, as we occupy a University building, we have to abide by the University rule, which is that no one is allowed in University buildings after 5 p.m. I realize that our hours are sometimes inconvenient for students, but the five-day week is pretty general these days.

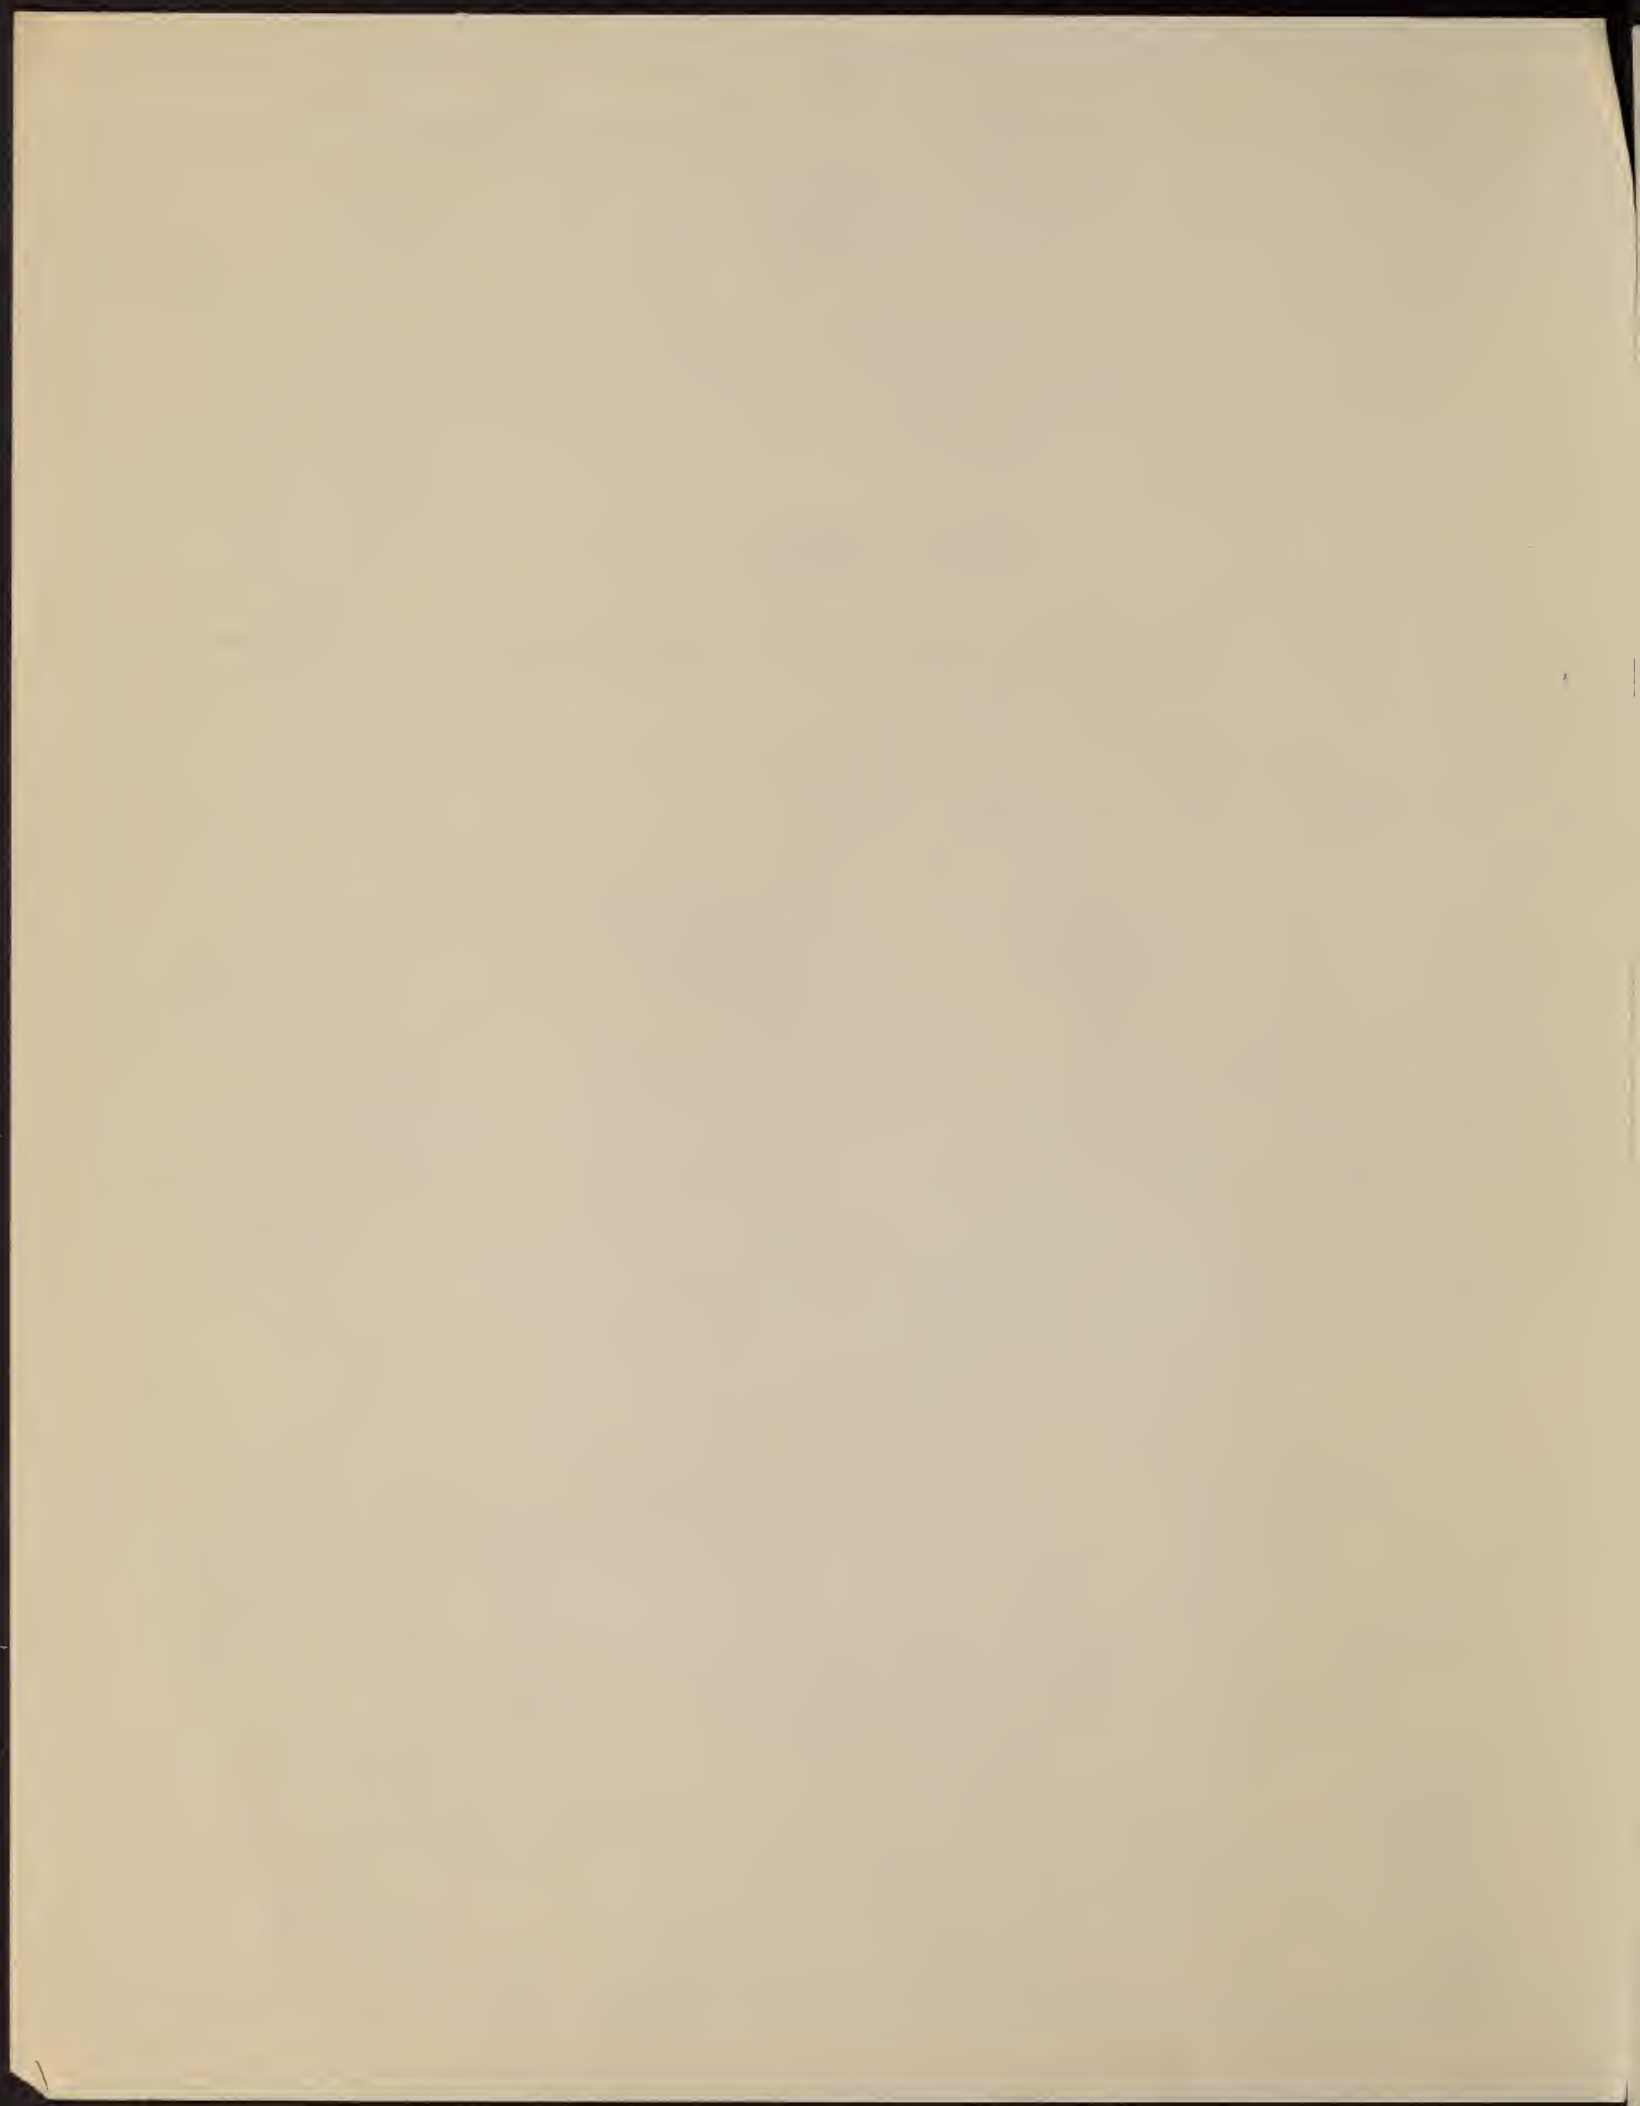

At any rate, we shall be glad to see you in September.

Yours sincerely

Dear Doctor Burleigh:

I wrote last week to Mrs. Allmark, asking if she would allow the John Clark Diary to be microfilmed here. I did not suggest that it might be microfilmed in Kingston for, when the Government provides me with a camera and a man to do the work, it does not seem logical for me to pay for having it done elsewhere. I explained to Mrs. Allmark the advantages of having the microfilming done here and hoped she would be influenced by my arguments. If not, I thought she would suggest that the microfilming be done in Kingston. However, her reply was fairly short: "I do not wish to send these books to Toronto. I might also mention that I have had a good many inquiries about this diary and that I have something else in mind in connection with it." What she has in mind I do not know, but it looks as if I shall have to let the matter rest for the time being.

Should you some time be able to find that Mrs. Allmark is willing, in some way, to let us have a copy of the diary, I hope you will let me know.

Yours sincerely

WEDDINGS

Mar 18, 1939

CLARK— FRINK

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the parsonage, Newburg, by the Rev. C. F. Swayne, when Viola Lena, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Frink became the bride of Mr. Harold Ross Clark, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Clark, Switzerville. The bride was charmingly gowned in dark blue crepe with matching navy blue turban, purse and shoes. Miss Eva Clark of Napanee, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and was prettily gowned in a frock of blue flowered silk with accessories to match. Mr. Carl Frink, brother of the bride was best man. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold locket; to the bridesmaid a silver bracelet and to the best man a handsome bill-fold. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents. Later the young couple left amid showers of confetti and good wishes for a short honeymoon to Ilion and other points. Upon their return they will reside in Switzerville.

ONTARIO'S OLDEST WOMAN, LIVED IN NAPANEE DISTRICT

One of the most remarkable women in Ontario had a birthday last week — her 107th.

She is Miss Nellie Clarke and is thought to be the oldest woman in the province. Born in Leeds County the year after the "Rebellion" (1838), she is bright and chipper and still helps with the light housework at the Carin nursing home in Cannifton, three miles north of Belleville, where she lives.

Although there is no official record of Miss Clarke's birth the family Bible having been burned in a house fire 75 years ago — Edward Hagerman, garage operator in Kingston, says that she is indeed 107 years old, having lived with Mr. Hagerman's grandfather and grandmother, in Addington County.

Miss Clarke attended school at Link's Mills, about 12 miles south-east of Napanee.

The little old lady has no known relatives but received a large number of calls and visitors on her birthday. Last week she received a letter from Prime Minister St. Laurent, offering congratulations.

Miss Clarke says she remembers when the first settlers in South Addington County cleared the land and established farms, and also when the first railway went through, burning wood instead of this "newfangled coal."

The Napanee and District Collegiate Institute Board has reached a salary agreement with its teachers, granting an across-the-board increase of $300 while leaving the annual increment at $200 as at present.

The minimum has been agreed upon at $3,100 and $3,300 for specialists, with a maximum of $5,800 for specialists and $5,600 for others.

The teachers originally asked for a $400 increase and a boost in the increment from $200 to $300. The board turned this down and made no alternative offer. The teachers ask-

Deceased was the daughter of Sarah L. Purdy and Hugh Rankin, and a great great granddaughter of Anthony McGuinn, who came to Canada in 1783 as a United Empire Loyalist. The home and farm of the deceased is part of a land purchase from the original crown grant, made to the Bishop of Kingston Diocese. Her home was one of the oldest in the community, having been built in its original state in 1826.

Interment took place at Cata-raqui Cemetery in a private United Empire Loyalist plot reserved for family descendants. 14-3-44

Hope To Save Camden East Historic Site

By ELIZABETH RYNASKO

Fate of the old dam site of Clark's Mills at Camden East hangs in the balance.

This last remnant of the original settlement and its accompanying green space has been caught in the conflict of public interest and private enterprise and its future appears uncertain.

The property was recently offered for sale at a price of $6,800 by the Roman Corporation which acquired it through its purchase of the Strathcona Paper Company earlier this year. Bids on the property have been made by the Napanee Region Conservation Authority and by at least one private individual.

Ultimate use of the site has been a cause for concern among a number of village residents, some of whom endeavored to buy it more than a year ago. The subject became a matter for debate at a meeting of the Camden East and District Community Association at a general meeting last Thursday night.

Although not overwhelmingly attended by village residents, those present, with a few dissenting votes, went on record as supporting the conservation authority's bid to acquire and rebuild the dam as an historical site, and to preserve the area as a green space within the community. Plans of the private interests are for construction of a house on the site.

History of the dam site goes back to 1821 when Samuel Clark bought Albert Scott's sawmill, located just north of the village and moved it downstream. He expanded the business by the addition of a grist mill and carding factory and as historians note "laid the foundations of the village."

Camden East became one of the earliest settlements in the Township of Camden East after Upper Canada was divided into counties and townships in 1798. For many years the hamlet which developed around the mills was known as Clark's Mills and served as the township "capital". Although Mr. Clark's business suffered recurrent damage from fire and flood there is little doubt that the ruins which remain bear mute testimony to Camden East's claim to historical pre-eminence in County history.

The village's recently founded community association is determined that the evidence will not disappear but will be preserved and enhanced for both the enjoyment and edification of present and future generations.

Whether or not this will be accomplished depends largely on the Napanee Region Conservation Authority being able to gain approval and funding. In this regard it must go through not only its own executive but subsequently through the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources branch offices at Kemptville.

As the mills of political gods tend to grind more slowly than those of Mr. Clark's kind, it may be some time before the fate of the dam site is finally decided.

Reply to Query B-6611 (2) dated June 19, 1954, by C.H.F.

Among the ch. of Joseph (4) Ketchum & Sarah Conklin I note familiar names—Isabel and Daniel. I have some information on an Isabel Ketchum which I give for what it is worth. Incidentally, Mrs. Estelle Clark Watson, 2316 Thayer Street, Evanston, Ill., is compiling a genealogy which includes the Isabel Ketchum noted above. She would be interested in this subject of Ketchums. She has had several notices in the Hartford Times in days gone by, asking Ketchum information.

This Isabel Ketchum, born on Long Island March 9, 1751 (according to Mrs. Watson), and died in Ernesttown Township, Ontario, in 1804. She was the wife of Robert Clark, a millwright, who became a Loyalist and fought with the British forces in the Revolutionary War. He was born March 16, 1744 on Quaker Hill, Dutchess County, N.Y. He joined the British forces in 1776, was at the Battle of Saratoga, and retired to Canada after the Convention of Saratoga. As far as is known, he never returned to his home in U.S. He is stated to have owned two farms in Dutchess County, both of which were confiscated. When he left his home he left behind his wife and three sons, Matthew, Reuben and Robert.

According to the Minutes of the Committee for Detecting and Defeating Conspiracies, his wife was called upon to depart from the State because her husband was with the enemy. This procedure, as you may know, was laid down by law to rid out enemies to the newly-formed United States of America. In this book of Minutes, under date Oct. 9, 1780, is the following:

Isabel Clark of Cooksborough appeared before the Board and laid before us a certificate signed by Lieut. Jacob Halenbeck and a number of other well affected Inhabitants of this County setting forth that the said Isabel Clark has received an order from a Justice of the Peace to depart the State or remove to such parts of it as are in the Power of the Enemy in consequence of her husband's having gone off to the Enemy and they further Certify that the said Isabel Clark has always behaved herself in a peaceable and quiet manner and that they do not conceive that her remaining in the Country will in any wise prove dangerous or detrimental to the Freedom and Independence of this and the United States--

It is therefore resolved that a Permit be made out for the said Isabel Clark to remain at her Habitation unmolested.

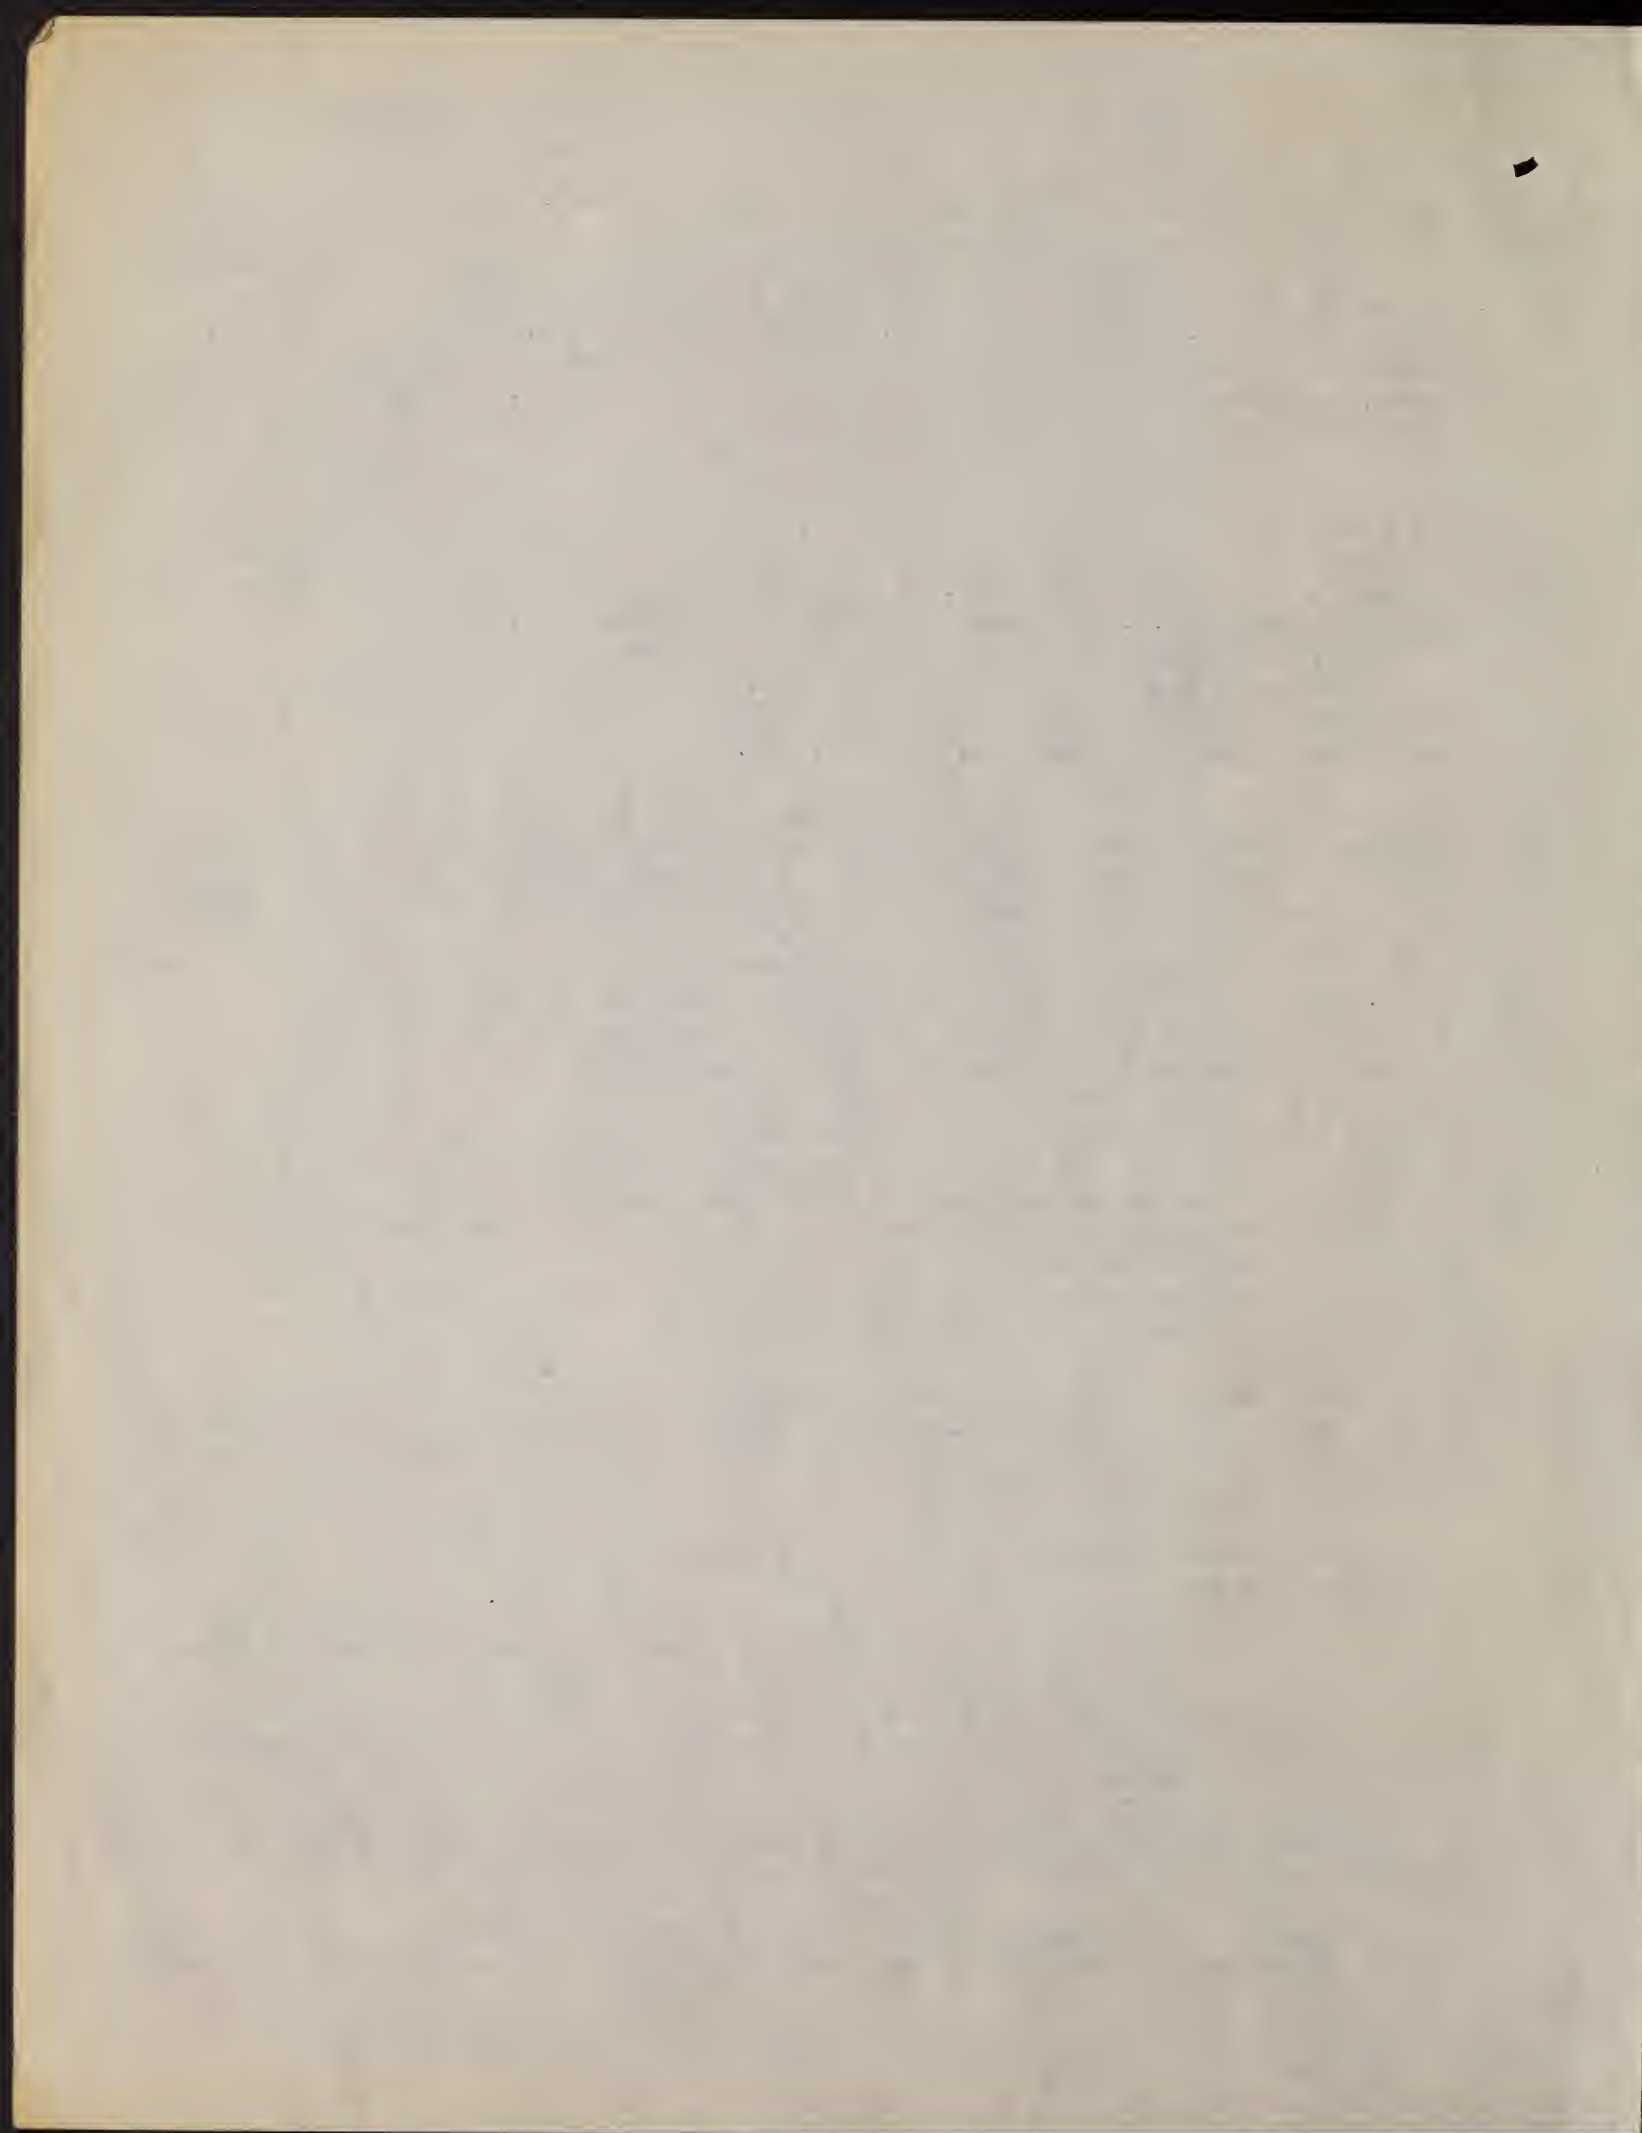

Mrs. Clark and her three sons removed to Sorel, Quebec, in 1783, and re-joined her husband at Kingston, Ontario, the following year. This family finally settled on lands granted to it about six miles east of this village. Here Isabel died, as noted above, in 1804.

A diary kept by John Clark, son of Isabel, reveals evidence of relatives of his mother by name of Ketchum. They were:

1. Elijah Ketchum visited John Clark in 1833, 1845 and 1852. In the last entry he is referred to as old Mr. Elijah Ketchum. This man owned land in Maldimand Township, near Cobourg, Ontario.
2. John Ketchum visited Clark in 1850.
3. "Mr. Daniel Ketchum came here from the U. S. (a cousin) and stayed over night."

I might add another note: Isabel's third son was born after her husband had joined the British Army. This would be in 1777 or early 1778.

Robert Clark, in his claim for losses during the Revolutionary War, states: "In 1775 he lived in Dutchess County, but soon after he moved to Albany County.

In 1777 he joined the British Army at Bennington. After the Convention he came to Canada. Says he served with the rebel militia 3 weeks in 1776."

"He owned a farm in Scataco district on the lands of one Cook. He made a bargain to purchase 168 acres. His wife remained on it for 4 years until 1782 when she was drove from it and it was then sold. Daniel Ketchum is now in possession."

"Produces affidavits of Daniel and Abijah Ketchum that Robert Clarke had a yoke of oxen, some Cattle and some Sheep taken from his farm in 1777 in consequence of his joining the British Army."

This letter, ~~in~~ I am very confident, will show that Isabel Ketchum, wife of Robert Clark, was a brother of Daniel and Abijah Ketchum, all children of Joseph Ketchum and his wife Sarah Conklin. Likewise, the Elijah, John and Daniel Ketchums who visited in Canada were without doubt first cousins of Isabel's children.

If my assertion is true, and if you agree, will you please confirm by letter. My interest in the matter is that I am collecting material for a genealogy of all the early families in this District of Canada. Naturally, I am greatly interested in the origins of Robert Clarke and his wife, Isabel Ketchum.

Yours sincerely,

H. C. Burleigh,
Bath,

Canada.

Much about Loyalists in general, as well as about particular Loyalist families, and an especial effort has been made to connect the American beginnings with the Canadian endings.

Many Revolutionary soldiers on American side are also mentioned, as well as colonial ancestors whose descendants are eligible to many patriotic and hereditary societies.

Valuable features of the book are three folding genealogical charts, a map, old family records, numerous illustrations, and four indexes. All married women are double-(or triple-) indexed—under maiden and married names. Some interesting anecdotes are told. Many suggestions are made as to where further information on certain families or subjects is to be found. Book has about 355 pages.

Descendants will want to get copies for their children and grandchildren to pass down to their descendants. (Book would make a worthwhile Christmas gift.)

Limited edition only. Pre-publication price $5.75 on all orders received before Nov. 1, 1954; later, $7.50. Orders are to be accompanied by payment in full. Books will probably be mailed between Nov. 15 and Dec. 1, 1954.

*you are mentioned in the book, and I have given you credit for your kind help to me.

At the commencement of the revolutionary War, Robert Clark, (my father) was owner of two Farms in the Province of New York, (now State of New York) and when Gen^l. Burgoin marched into the devoted Colonies, he attached himself to the Gen^l. Army, and at the defeat of the army effected his escape into Canada, leaving his family a prey to the merciless Rebels who stripped them of every species of property, and turned them out of doors! Nor did their sufferings end till 1783. in which year they reached Canada; (now the lower province,) at that period my father (Robert Clark) was at Catarague, having been sent there for the purpose of superintending the building of Mills, as will appear by Voucher N^o. 1. he having been employed during the War erecting and repairing Mills for Government, at St. John, Chambler, Sorrell, Mafchick, Catarague &c. In 1785. (after he was dismissed from the service) he effected the settlement of his family. —

About two years after, Lord Dorchester, and Sir John Johnson made a tour through the Bay of Quinte, and in passing Lot N^o. 18. (the Mill seat in question) some person in the Barge said, it is unfortunate for the Country, this Mill seat does not belong to some enterprising individual, that as long as it belonged to Government it would be neglected.

Robert Clark the Mill Wright was then mentioned as a proper person to own such a situation. — it was said, but there is a Saw-mill on it belonging to Government. His Lordship replied, the Saw-mill is no object to Government. —

This conversation being told my father (Robert Clark) induced him to apply for it. Accordingly in 1788. he addressed a Petition to His Excellency in Council for the Lot in question, constituting John Collins Esquire (then deputy Surveyor General and member of Council) his agent. The lot was granted, and an order of Survey issued dated 14th July 1789. as will appear by voucher N^o. 2. The Survey was as appears from the Court Book of the 29th August 1789, as will appear by Voucher 123. — Through some neglect, no further notice was taken of the business for five years, except in a friendly letter from John Collins Esquire marked Voucher No 4 dated 27th January 1791, which goes to show the impression on his mind, of the undoubted claim of Robert Clark to the lot in question. — In February 1789 the late Hon^{ble} Richard Cartwright applied for leave to erect a Grist-Mill on the lot, but did not receive permission in consequence of the prior prayer of Rob^t Clark, which was recommended by the Report of the Land Committee on the 19th of June 1789, as will appear by Voucher No 58 b. and which recommendation was acted upon, as before stated, on the 14th July following by command of His Excellency Lord Dorchester, who had full power to grant the Crown lands to such as were deserving, and my father expects the said Lot, as Lord Dorchester's particular bounty, or reward, in consideration of his employment and services as a Master Mill wright, or at all events, a part of his quota of Land, not intending to accept of another lot in lieu of that. — After the Province of Quebec was divided into upper and lower Canada, and General Simcoe assumed the Government of Upper Canada, Father again Petitioned in 1794. to His Excellency John Graves Simcoe in Council, praying for permission to take legal possession of the premises, which he conceived to be his; the Petition was laid before the Council 27th May 1794. and by them referred to the Receiver General, who reported in Council the 7th June following, that the Mill seat applied for, belonged to the Crown, a Saw-mill having been erected thereon at the public expence &c. — In 1796. he again Petitioned, and was recommended for a Lease of the Saw-Mill. —

On the first of September 1801. he was warned to appear before the Council on the first day of June 1802. he was then informed he could have a Lease of the premises, which he declined accepting, conceiving he had no right to pay rent for land, for which he had an undoubted claim. — He Petitioned again for said Lot in Jan^y 1816.

am unable to answer, that he had drawn his complement of money, and therefore could not have his prayer answered.
In 1811 my brother and I applied for the Lot in father's name, (he being superannuated) and the Honorable Judge Bowd advised me to withdraw our petition, and at the same time made me acquainted with a report of the ^{late} Hon. Judge Simmons, which was, that Robert Clark had deceived Lord Dorchester in not stating in his application that there was a saw-mill on the Lot, and that the Council were ^{still} of the same opinion &c.

Whether my Father mentioned the Saw Mill in his petition to Lord Dorchester, I know not, neither does he remember; at all events, he has offered every thing that is consistent with reason and equity, he has offered to give up all the Mill Irons, and to surrender a Deed to Government of some other Lot of Land, and yet it has been kept from him for the small pittance of fifteen pounds per annum
